1.0 OBJECTIVE

To provide basic guidelines to personnel (paid and volunteer) as to appropriate behavioural expectations relating to Professional Indemnity Insurance.

2.0 SCOPE

The procedure covers all personnel operating directly under the CBC banner and not another Para-Church organisation.

3.0 PROCEDURE - PROFESSIONAL INDEMNITY

The church and the ministry team are protected by 'Professional Indemnity' insurance. This covers CBC against alleged act, error, omission or misconduct. To establish a claim, it is necessary for it to be shown that the ministry team, or a member of it, has behaved in a negligent manner, which in turn resulted in a loss to the person or organisation seeking to claim against CBC.

3.1 PROFESSIONAL INDEMNITY COVER

Professional Indemnity insurance can include coverage of the following:

- Breach of Duty – paid employees or volunteers
- Wrongful advice – counselling, pastoral care and teaching
- Libel and slander (defamation)
- Infringement of copyright, designs and trademarks
- The cost of coronial inquires and investigations by disciplinary bodies.

3.2 POSSIBLE CLAIM

If there is any incident that may give rise to claim under this policy, the Centre Manager is to immediately notify the Baptist Insurance and the NSW Baptist Union.

3.3 SPECIFIC RISKS

Below are some of the more common areas that may be considered a risk for CBC:

3.3.1 PRAYER MINISTRY

Prayer lines can be one of the most hazardous places to be in a church service. Many people have fallen backwards in prayer lines and suffered serious injuries such as a fractured skull, brain damage, broken arms, broken legs, torn tendons, back injuries, the list goes on and on. Many of those injured have subsequently sued the church for damages and won their case. To minimise the problem of prayer line injuries the following procedures should be followed:

- Ask people who respond to an altar call to kneel or sit on the front row of seats rather than stand. This is especially relevant if there are many people responding who could be standing for a considerable time.
- ALWAYS have another person standing behind to act as 'catcher' when anyone is standing for prayer in case they fall. The catcher should stay with the person they are 'catching' until that person has left the prayer area. Note: Catchers should be trained in the technique of lowering people gently to the floor. Catchers can injure their back very easily if the correct technique is not used.
- Use 'like for like' catchers i.e. If the person being prayed for is a large adult use another large adult to act as catcher, not a small elderly lady!

 CARINGBAH BAPTIST CHURCH	<h2>Policy & Procedures Manual</h2>	Release Date: 30/05/2022 Revision No: Issue 3.20 Authorised by: Centre Mgr

- There have been occasions where the catcher is the one injured, not those being prayed for.
- Pray for people in an orderly manner, not rushing from one end of the prayer line to the other. Make sure that those acting as catchers are in place before you commence praying.
- Ask people to sit or kneel again once they have been prayed for. Some people become very emotional and physically disoriented after prayer and we must do all in our power to make sure they are safe.
- Where specific prayer ministry is offered the “CBC Prayer Ministry Agreement” CHU-038 must be used and signed copies kept as a record.

3.3.2 LEADERSHIP BEHAVIOUR

Guidelines for the recruiting of leaders and their expected behaviour are outlined in procedure 9.1.

3.3.3 PASTORAL CARE ACTIVITIES

When administering pastoral care to the congregation it is important that those involved in this work follow the simple rules set out below:

- Stay in the open, in view of others. Being alone with a person places the leader at risk of accusations of misconduct which could be difficult to rebut.
- Share information with the ministry team leader. Inform the ministry team leader of what is being done, how long it will take, where the worker is going, with whom and the purpose. Sharing this information will give added protection should some unforeseen problem arise whilst the worker is carrying out the assigned task.
- Keep a written record of the session for future reference and as protection should litigation arise in the future
- Have a third person present where possible. This is especially important when ministering to a member of the opposite gender.
- Demonstrate empathy but do not disclose too much about yourself.
- Avoid touching. Always ask permission to lay hands on someone.
- When arranging follow up visits try to ensure they are gender specific where possible.
- Respect confidentiality, but avoid getting trapped into keeping a destructive secret. If asked to promise not to reveal anything you are about to be told explain that you will endeavour to do so. Also explain that there is a duty owed to others and that should you become aware of some potential harm being caused to them, appropriate action must be taken such as reporting criminal activity to the authorities. This also applies to mandatory reporting requirements of child abuse. Understand that there are levels of confidentiality. See procedure 9.4.1.

3.3.4 GROUP LEADERSHIP

Leaders of ‘Small Groups’ need to be aware of some of the dangers, problems, moral dilemmas and temptations they may be exposed to and how they can be best dealt with. Here are some important points to bring to the attention of these leaders:

 CARINGBAH BAPTIST CHURCH	<h2>Policy & Procedures Manual</h2>	Release Date: 30/05/2022 Revision No: Issue 3.20 Authorised by: Centre Mgr

- Small Group Leaders are part of a team. Be sure they know their place in the team, their responsibilities and to whom they should speak should they experience difficulties.
- Appropriate boundaries are important. Be sure they know when they need to act as a leader as opposed to a friend.
- They should be aware of sexual feelings they may experience towards those to whom they minister. In those circumstances they must act in accordance with strict moral principles.
- They should not respond to or initiate flirting with those they lead.
- They need to take care of their own physical, mental and spiritual well-being. People are more vulnerable when they fail to look after their own health.
- They should remain accountable to someone independent of the group they lead. This person should be free to ask leaders personal and intimate questions. Having someone to talk to is a real blessing and will help leaders preserve their personal integrity.
- Leaders should ensure that their need for intimacy is met through right personal relationships with those that the Lord has given them.
- Their personal conduct should be beyond reproach (level of physical touch), appropriate level of self disclosure). They should develop their own code of personal conduct and stick to it.
- Inequality of power is something all leaders need to be aware of. Leaders have the power to influence people and their behaviour. That power must not be abused.

3.3.5 PLATFORM BEHAVIOUR

When leaders are addressing the congregation from the platform/stage they are perceived to be speaking with the authority of the church. Therefore, they should present the word of God and must take care not to use the opportunity to their own ends. If a leader intends speaking about another person or using them as an example, the person's permission should be sought even if their name isn't used.

3.3.6 PERSONAL HAZARDS

Personal hazards may include stressors such as work pressures, boredom, lack of recognition, discrimination, harassment and threats of violence. Personal hazards usually affect office staff and ministry team members. Failure to address these hazards can result in stress, anxiety and depression for those involved. These conditions may ultimately result in the lodgement of a worker's compensation or liability claim against the church.

Whilst we all have stress in our lives, different people handle stressors in different ways. Pastors and direct line supervisors need to be able to identify the indicators of stress in their office and ministry team. These include:

- Frequent absences from work
- Frequent complaints of headaches and abdominal pain
- Apparent mood swings
- Unusual or irrational behaviour

 CARINGBAH BAPTIST CHURCH	<h2>Policy & Procedures Manual</h2>	Release Date: 30/05/2022 Revision No: Issue 3.20 Authorised by: Centre Mgr

3.3.7 WORK PRESSURES

Workers are sometimes unintentionally exposed to work pressures beyond those that can reasonably be expected to be endured. Such pressures can affect the health of the individual concerned causing them anxiety, depression and even physical symptoms. There are many issues to be considered when dealing with workers if they are to avoid problems arising from workplace pressures. These include:

- Make workers feel part of ‘a team’
- Clear job description outlining roles and responsibilities
- Autonomy appropriate to their position
- Consultation with other team members
- Variety of tasks where possible
- Training in new technologies as required
- Feedback on their performance
- Social interaction as well as a place to work
- Too little or too much work can create a difficult environment in which to work.

3.3.8 DISCRIMINATION

Discrimination can be defined as the act of treating people differently, negatively or less advantageously than others because of some real or perceived difference in their physical or mental make-up, or because they belong to a minority group.

All states have anti-discrimination legislation, which makes it unlawful to discriminate against people for what they may do or how they may behave in their public life. Discrimination may be on the basis of a physical or intellectual impairment, religion, race, marital status, sexuality, pregnancy, or for some specific beliefs they may hold. There are many possible outcomes of discriminating against people, especially employees. Discrimination can lead to legal action being taken against individuals and CBC. The action may be under Work Health & Safety, Industrial Relations or Equal Opportunity legislation.

When a leader becomes aware of a complaint about discrimination, it must be taken seriously and fully investigated. It may be necessary to seek legal advice before carrying out the investigation. Any investigation must be carried out in a timely manner. Matters that are reported as having potential to be seen as discriminatory must be reported to Baptist Insurance Services who may be able to provide appropriate advice.

3.3.9 HARASSMENT

Harassment can be described as any unreasonable provocative action taken to deliberately annoy or provoke a hostile response from another person or put undue pressure or stress on them. Another term often used to describe harassment is bullying.

There are different classifications of harassment. These include:

- Sexual harassment
- Physical harassment

 CARINGBAH BAPTIST CHURCH	<h2>Policy & Procedures Manual</h2>	Release Date: 30/05/2022 Revision No: Issue 3.20 Authorised by: Centre Mgr
Section 9.2	PERSONNEL PROTECTION	Page: 5 of 6

- Stalking
- Abuse of authority
- Abuse of power
- Religion based harassment
- Racial based harassment
- Disability based harassment
- Aged based harassment

Harassment can occur in any organisation. No matter who is causing the harassment or bullying it is the employer's responsibility to stop it and to provide an environment for its employees where harassment is seen as unacceptable. CBC has a legal obligation to ensure that its workplace is free from harassment and bullying. Refer to Equal Opportunity, Discrimination, Vilification and Work Health & Safety legislation.

Any person, who wants to lodge a formal complaint in regards to not being treated fairly, should refer to CBC's Grievance Resolution Policy. Where CBC becomes aware of any alleged incident of harassment it must be reported to Baptist Insurance Services. They may provide advice, and where legal action is threatened will report the matter to the insurer.

3.3.10 CONFLICT RESOLUTION

The following issues should be carefully considered when resolving conflict:

- A leader involved in conflict resolution between two or more other people must remain calm and unbiased.
- When informed of a conflict, if the matter is not of a serious reportable nature, the parties involved should always be encouraged to talk through the issues, seeking honest and clear communication before the matter is dealt with by an overseeing authority.
- Church personnel should take care of their own emotional state when entering a potential conflict themselves. Staff and leaders should always remain controlled keeping tight reign on their tongue.
- Church personnel must be aware of the positional authority they hold, and refrain from any domineering involvement in conflict arising from their position of authority in the church.
- Conflict engaged through letter writing, email or phone should be avoided if possible, in favour of face to face meeting.
- The Grievance Resolution Policy CHU-037 has been developed as a tool that can be used when handling conflict.

4.0 RESPONSIBILITIES AND AUTHORITIES

4.1 Centre Manager - is responsible for the following:

4.1.1 Notifying Baptist Insurance Services of any possible claim.

4.2 Prayer Ministry Coordinator - is responsible for the following:

4.2.1 Maintaining records of Prayer Ministry Agreements.

CARINGBAH
BAPTIST CHURCH

This leaflet provides an explanation of CBC's approach to the protection of all people, in particular children, young people and vulnerable adults who are part of CBC's church and its community services.

Motivated by God's love

God's love is the core motivation for CBC creating and maintaining a safe environment for all people.

We endeavour to do this by ensuring that all ministries and services we run are:

- Safe - free from abuse and harm; and
- Friendly - valuing and respecting every individual as made in the image of God.

What CBC is required to do?

There is a growing demand on churches to comply with safety regulations, legislation around child protection, protection of vulnerable persons and insurance requirements for exercising duty of care 'doing everything reasonably practicable to protect others from harm'.

To create a safe environment, fulfil our moral, ethical, legal and insurance obligations, CBC has in place the following:

- policies and procedures
- recruitment processes
- codes of conduct
- supervision of ministry leaders and workers
- training for workers in kids and youth ministries

Exercising duty of care includes implementing policies and procedures that all workers (paid or unpaid/volunteer) are aware of and follow. Here at CBC, we are actively working to develop a culture of safety.

What is CBC doing to keep you safe?

1. Recruitment of workers:
 - We ensure the suitability of all workers before they are appointed.
 - For those working with children under 18 years, we screen them using the NSW Working with Children Check.
 - Paid pastoral staff are also required to obtain a National Police Check.
2. Training and supervision of workers:
 - Workers in kids and youth ministries are required to attend Creating Safe Spaces training every three years.
 - We commit to the ongoing training, supervision and support for workers in kids and youth ministries.
3. Safe Church Team (SCT):
(safechurch@ecbc.org.au)
 - CBC has established a SCT to receive concerns or allegations and report as per mandatory requirements to authorities; provide care to those involved; and keep private and confidential records.
 - SCT members are:
 - Ian Altman (Lead Pastor)
 - Neil Reynolds (Elder)
 - Kay Djoeandy (Counsellor)
4. Safe emotional environments:
 - We encourage participants to have a say and encourage and value ideas for program and ministry development.
5. Safe physical environment:
 - We are committed to work, health and safety and have policies and procedures in place to establish and maintain physically safe environments.
 - We are committed to continuous improvement and conduct regular risk assessments of the premises and activities.
6. Responding to allegations of risk of significant harm (abuse):
 - All workers are required to report disclosures or suspicions of child abuse or abuse of a vulnerable person to the SCT.
 - We have a process in place for when an allegation of ministry misconduct is made.

Process for reporting

What to do if you see or hear something that causes you concern about the safety of a child, young person or vulnerable adult.

Step 1

Do not tell anyone else of your concerns except the SCT (see Step 2). Remember you do not need to investigate or prove the abuse. In the case of an emergency ring 000.

Step 2

Ring the CBC office on 9524 2709 and ask to speak to a member of the SCT or email the team – safechurch@ecbc.org.au

Step 3

Ask for support from the SCT if you continue to feel concerned about what you saw or heard.

Step 4

Take no further action as you have fulfilled your responsibility – thank you!

An Australian Baptist Response to Persons of Concern

Individual Accountability & Safety Agreements

Why do we need a process?

From time to time our church may face the situation where a person of concern has been worshipping and been involved, or wishes to worship and be involved, in our church. While demonstrating genuine compassion and justice, we must take steps to protect the whole church community.

This process aims to ensure that all reasonable measures have been put in place to ensure safe ministry occurs with persons of concern. Australian Baptists are committed to safe ministry, i.e. God honouring, abuse free, harm free, person valuing and respectful ministry.

Ministry to a person of concern acknowledges

- that there is a high level of community feeling and fear about sexual abuse.
- the duty of care we have to provide safe environments for all people in our church.
- that there is no one type of person of concern, therefore individual Safety Agreements are necessary.
- that there are survivors of abuse in congregations, and we seek to care for them effectively.
- the issues of forgiveness and a person of concern's right to privacy.
- the liability issues around a person of concern reoffending.
- the need for denominational support, training, monitoring and oversight in this process.

Flowchart

Who are persons of concern (POC)?

A person of concern:

1. has pleaded guilty to, been convicted of, or has admitted to a sexual criminal offence.
2. has been found to have sexually offended, arising through due diligence checks related to recruitment (screening).
3. is currently charged with a sexual offence.
4. has been the subject of an allegation of a sexual offence and this was not appropriately investigated.
5. has been found to have received an adverse risk assessment arising from sexual misconduct
6. deemed to be a risk to the safety of children and/or vulnerable adults because of an adverse risk assessment relating to sexual misconduct.
7. exhibits constant wandering across other peoples' sexual boundaries.

What does an Individual Accountability & Safety Agreement Mean?

An individual safety agreement is an agreement between a person of concern, our church and denomination, establishing the terms and conditions for the person of concern to participate in the life of our church.

A Safety Agreement makes clear what steps the church and person of concern are taking to reduce real and potential risks associated with ministry to the person of concern.

When to use this process?

If a person in our church, or a person interested in coming to our church:

- tells you that they have committed a sexual offence
- in the course of doing our due diligence checks for recruitment, a person discloses they have committed a past sexual offence
- if we are aware that a person has had an allegation of a past or current sexual offence
- deemed to be a risk to the safety of children and/or vulnerable adults because of an adverse risk

Is this a Christian Response?

A Christian congregation can be one of the few places where sexual abusers, as the recipients of God's forgiveness, can mix with a Christian community. However, that forgiveness does not mean immunity from temptation to re-offend.

The forgiveness and grace of God, mediated with supervision and clear guidelines through a local church, can be a vital part of that journey.

This demonstrates the Australian Baptist Churches' mission and commitment to provide a safe place for children and other vulnerable people to grow and shine.

GRIEVANCE RESOLUTION

This leaflet provides an overview of CBC's approach to grievance resolution. Please use this leaflet as an introduction and where further detailed information is required please see a member of the Leadership.

Policy Statement

CBC is committed to ensuring an authentic and grace-filled church environment by ensuring that all staff, volunteers, members or attenders of the Church have access to processes that allow for grievances, disputes, problems and complaints to be resolved.

Our Constitution, in Clause 5, paragraph 6 states:

"Where matters of disagreement arise between members they should initially seek to resolve them between themselves in accordance with Matthew 5:23-24 & 18:15-17."

All persons of the Church have an obligation and responsibility to proactively promote a Christian community free of abuse, duress and harassment. All grievances will be dealt with in a supportive environment without victimisation or intimidation of anyone connected with the grievance either during or subsequent to a grievance resolution procedure.

Policy Scope

It is NOT designed to resolve:

- issues relating to domestic violence, family law matters before the Family Law Court (or similar body)
- complaints or concerns relating to abuse (including Child Sexual Abuse or Sexual Misconduct involving a Child)
- serious breaches of the Code of Conduct – Accredited or Recognised Minister with the Baptist Churches of NSW & ACT

It applies to:

- staff
- volunteers
- members and attendees of the church

Policy Approach

CBC's approach to grievance resolution emphasises:

- fairness and impartiality
- conciliation
- the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness
- resolution of grievances as early as possible and as close as possible to the source
- the role of appointed leaders in seeking to prevent and resolve grievances

Policy Procedure

Introduction:

CBC's procedure for resolving grievances follows the three-step framework described by Jesus in Matthew 18:15-17:

"If your brother sins against you, go and show him his fault, just between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won your brother over. But if he will not listen, take one or two others along, so that 'every matter may be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses.' If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, treat him as you would a pagan or a tax collector."

Grievances directed against appointed leaders or staff of CBC:

1. First Level - Early Conciliation

(seeking to resolve grievances at the earliest possible stage)

The first step is simply for a complainant to seek out the leader with whom they have a grievance and open up a conversation. Early conciliation normally will not involve anyone external to the grievance but will be a private matter between the two parties concerned.

2. Second Level – Assisted Conciliation

If the complainant believes that the grievance has not been resolved

- advise CBC Leadership
- the Leadership will advise the leader
- the Leadership will facilitate

3. Third Level - Arbitration

If the complainant believes that the grievance has not been resolved through assisted conciliation

- advise CBC Leadership in writing and request a Special Leadership Meeting

Grievances – member to member:

Where a grievance does NOT involve an appointed leader or staff member, CBC's procedure is for the two parties to use the principles of the policy as a guide, without the formal involvement of Staff or Leadership.

Senior Pastor Abuse:

[Pastor abuse is defined as abuse administered under the guise of Religion, including harassment or humiliation, which may result in psychological trauma.]

Where the Senior Pastor believes that they have been abused by a member or attendee of the Church they are to:

1. advise the person that the complaint is being referred to CBC Leadership
2. a delegation from Leadership will contact them shortly to review the issue
3. assisted conciliation will be instigated
4. if not resolved arbitration will be instigated
